Dear EQC Members:

I wish to inform you of my support for the "Very Rare" or "Uncommon" designations for Adobe Town. This area, rich in historical, archaeological, wildlife, geological, botanical, and scenic values, must be protected from mining and other heavy industrial development. This is an area of Wyoming where conservation and public enjoyment must be priorities.

Among the more specific Adobe Town treasures that Wyoming residents and visitors have the right to enjoy are: a high density of archaeological sites associated with cultural and religious traditions, irreplaceable wildlife habitats, unique geological features and fossil resources, and beauty that is of enormous value for all who enjoy diverse and unique outdoor experiences, as well as artists, photographers, writers, and cultural and religious groups with historically strong ties to the land.

Please help keep Adobe Town one area in Wyoming that is free from development. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Carma L. Corra
