Jeremiah:

It appears that the matter may not be moot. It appears that the DEQ has determined to place the new cell argument in their pocket and then proceed on another avenue. If the new avenue is not successful, then they can pull the new cell out of their pocket and try to use it again. Either this is or is not a new cell. If the DEQ position is that this is not a new cell, then they should be willing to say so and stipulate as such. If they still hold the position that this is a new cell, then the matter is not moot.

Please let me know what their position is, once and for all, and from that determination we will know if the matter is moot or not.

Rick:

The proposed revision is not acceptable to DEQ because DEQ does not believe it accurately represents the course of events. Following the preliminary review, DEQ did not make an affirmative determination that the proposed expansion does not constitute a new cell, unit, or facility. Rather, DEQ set aside that issue and did not posit any decisions in relation thereto. The proposed revision suggests otherwise.

Accordingly, the language originally proposed, as reflected in the attached document, is the language DEQ is willing to accept.

If we are able to agree on final language, I concur that we should have a conference call with the EQC.

Please let me know how you would like to proceed.

Thanks.

Jeremiah

Jeremiah:

Attached is a revised Stipulation. I have made one small change in the language and it is underlined. If this is acceptable please let me know and I can sign the Stipulation and get it in the mail to you. If we are in agreement, then we should also do a conference call with the EQC attorney and let him know that this is resolved for now.
